Learning Made Fun

Is your child school-ready? At this crucial time of year, and with new experiences on the horizon, it's great to give kids a helping hand at home. Orchard Toys' range of appealing educational games are just the job to prepare your child for nursery or starting school/returning to the classroom. Not only that, they're colourful, child-friendly and fun too.

Educational games are a great way to make learning fun: from pre-schoolers learning about turn-taking, to Key Stage 1 children practising spellings and numeracy. Whatever skills children are acquiring, they are more likely to retain them if the learning experience is a rewarding and enjoyable experience.

Associating learning with fun and positivity from a young age will spark a passion for learning that children will carry with them throughout their school lives and beyond.

Orchard Toys' ethos of Learning Made Fun is at the heart of everything they do, and they've been successful striking just the right balance between education and fun for the last 50 years! Working closely with educational advisors, teachers and children, they make sure that every one of their games and jigsaws is age appropriate, educationally sound and, most importantly, fun. Only once they are confident that it meets these standards does an Orchard Toys game earn their Teacher Tested stamp of approval. It's no wonder the games are loved by teachers, parents and children!

Chances are children will have no idea they're learning something new, or brushing up on a skill, whilst playing Orchard Toys' games. Whether it's exploring colour or shape recognition, developing memory and matching skills, encouraging observation, practising numbers and letters or developing their understanding of the world – they'll be loving every minute by simply playing.
